

Achieving excellence in life is mandatory for survival of the fittest

Date: 24.03.2017

Educational institutes are not just an academic platform for students to learn the knowledge of books but it also prepares them to outperform in their personal development. With this vision in mind, Career Point University organized an expert lecture on the topic, “Achieving excellence in life”. The eminent speaker of the session was Professor Dr. Anil Mehta who is currently working as a professor in the department of Business Administration in University of Rajasthan. Dr. Mehta shared his immense knowledge and experience by giving an inspiring lecture to students from various courses.

Dr. Mehta in his inspirational lecture entailed his valuable thoughts saying, “Perfection is not attainable, but if we chase perfection we can catch excellence and Excellence can be obtained if you; care more than others think is wise; risk more than others think is safe; dream more than others think is practical; expect more than others think is possible.” To these remarkable thoughts he added that in today’s era of competition every young mind strive for excellence which is well justified, as it is the utmost demeanour for a well-being to survive in this world filled with advancement. Excellence is required and actually helpful in every field whether it is education, service, civil, pharmacy, aerospace etc. but how to achieve it is a big question as everyone has a different mind-set and way of working. These highly motivating words by Mr. Mehta kept the students captivated and encouraged them to stand up and groom themselves to prove their talent and worth in today’s world which still states the Darwin’s theory of “Survival of the fittest” true.

Admission Office:

CP Tower, Road No. 1, IPIA, Kota (Raj.) India – 324005

University Address:

National Highway 12, Alaniya, Kota (Rajasthan) 325003